

New library resources for Junior School students

A well-resourced school library is essential in any school, especially now that we rely so heavily on immediate access to information. Libraries promote student engagement, enhance the culture of learning and provide access to state-of-the-art educational resources.

This year's Community Giving features two projects which aim to expand our students' access to age-appropriate resources and develop a lifelong love of literature.

At our Kew campus, we seek your support to extend our wonderful collection of books available in the Prep to Year 4 classrooms, as well as broadening the curated sections of the library for Year 5 and 6 students.

At our Donvale campus, your support will enable subscription to REDeLEARN, an online resource closely aligned to the Australian Curriculum. Designed to be the easiest and most reliable resource for students searching for topics related to their schoolwork, REDeLEARN can be accessed in class, in the library and at home.

Thank you

Thank you for your generous support last year. Your contributions included:

- Access and Equity Scholarship
- Carey Kew Sports Complex Redevelopment
- Junior School Library Initiatives

In another challenging pandemic year, Carey families showed continued support for one another and generously supported a range of initiatives to help our students. We are very grateful for this contribution and belief in the transformative impact of a Carey education.

Building a better future

By supporting Community Giving in 2022, you are helping us to build a better future for all.

We have included a range of important projects in this year's appeal which will have an immediate impact and respond to the invaluable feedback we have heard from our community: that Carey must lead the way in sustainability and social equity.

You can choose to support:

- solar panels at Camp Toonallook, to reduce our carbon footprint at our dedicated Outdoor Education campus on the Gippsland Lakes
- our Access and Equity Scholarship, which provides a life-changing education for a student facing hardship or disadvantage
- two Junior School library initiatives to enhance student learning and accessibility.

By working together, we ensure the best possible future for our students, teachers and broader Carey community.

Principal

Building a green and sustainable Camp Toonallook

Since the generous donation of Camp Toonallook to Carey in 1967, 'Toona' has become one of Carey's greatest assets. It is at the core of our Outdoor Education experience for Junior and Middle School students and the venue for several leadership camps and retreats for Senior School students.

With your support this year we can strengthen sustainability at Carey through the installation of solar panels to power our Toonallook campus.

This initiative is a tangible example of Carey's commitment to environmental sustainability and allows students to see and learn about the importance of renewable energy and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

This project also builds on the comprehensive range of environmental initiatives delivered in our Middle School.

Transform the lives of disadvantaged students

Childhood was challenging for Sarah Pe, whose parents are Karen refugees from Myanmar. Her family struggled for survival, moving from village to village to avoid persecution and the civil war. They eventually resettled in Melbourne, where she was born.

'Growing up was difficult as I felt I didn't really fit in to either my heritage or the Australian culture. Since coming to Carey through a humanitarian scholarship, my confidence has been boosted and I have been able to explore my passions and creativity through community service, art and music.' – Sarah Pe (2018)

Last year, with the generous support of the Carey community, we were able to fully fund our first ever Access and Equity Scholarship for a student experiencing hardship or financial disadvantage. Now, we need your help to provide another life-changing opportunity for a deserving student like Sarah, who would not otherwise be able to attend Carey.
